MASS ATTACK COST HEAVY TO GERMANS

Twenty-Two to Seven Score in Favor of R.A.F.—
Scottish Squadron of Air Fighters Takes
Ten Minutes to Blast Eight Nazi
Messerschmitts From Sky

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—Germany revived massed air assault on Britain today, after a prolonged period of sporadic raiding, sending over hundreds of fighters and fighter-bombers, particularly against the Portsmouth naval base.

By 8 o'clock tonight twenty-two enemy aircraft had been downed to Britain's seven. Four Royal Air Force pilots were safe.

Highlight of the day's battles was the achievement of a Scottish auxiliary squadron. It took the squadron just ten minutes to blast eight Messerschmitts out of the sky in a vicious dogfight over Kent at a 300-mile-an-hour pace.

Four times today and again tonight London was attacked from the air. Portsmouth was attacked twice.

Tonight was London's fifty-third night of air raids.

ITALIANS REPULSED
With the German squadrons came at least nine heavy bombers believed to be Italian. They were accompanied by sixty Messerschmitt fighters and were turned away from the Kent coast by anti-aircraft fire.

At Portsmouth several houses and shops were wrecked, and a small number of persons killed during the evening attack.

In the day attack on Portsmouth anti-aircraft guns and fighters broke up the raiding squadrons, and the assault was described as "unsuccessful" by the Air Ministry.

Tonight, in London, even fires dropped by the attackers were machine-gunned before they could serve as beacons for bomb sights.

Earlier, in the night of thousands of Londoners, British ground guns shot down a raider over Hyde Park, in the very centre of the city.

CLAIMS TURKEY HAS BIG FORCE

Turkish Aeronautical Engineer Says Nation Has Planes and Pilots

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (P).—Ambert Cemil Tahirk Erk, Turkish aeronautical engineer, said here today Turkey is ready to fight for independence and is much stronger in the air than is popularly believed.

He said Turkey's programme in the air had been to have 1,000 first-line fighting planes and 15,000 pilots by 1940, but this programme had been more than doubled under stress of war conditions in Europe.

Erk added that the Turkish Air Force has a number of reserve squadrons composed of women pilots, some of whom he said have seen active service in bombing rebellious Kurds, tribal nomads in the South.

Hearst Sued For Nearly Five Million

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29 (P).—William Randolph Hearst was sued for $4,820,526 in Superior Court today by five persons who designated themselves as a committee for bondholders of the W.A.R. Realty Corporation.

The suit charged that Hearst had guaranteed payment of a $7,000,000 bond issue by the corporation, of which $4,844,750 is now outstanding, less a $24,233 interest payment already made.

The complaint asserted Hearst had refused to pay the balance.

British Knew of Plan of Italians

CAIRO, Oct. 29 (P).—Italy's plan to attack Greece this week was known to both the Greek and the British Governments seven days before the Italian ultimatum was served and steps to meet it were taken at once throughout the Near East, it was learned today on high authority.

This source said the Axis powers' idea in attempting to occupy Greece was to make that country the jumping-off place for a drive in the Eastern Mediterranean.

B.C. BORROWS FIVE MILLION

Some $2,000,000 for Roads
And $3,000,000 in Re-funding Concerned

Concurrently with the announcement by financial houses in Toronto, Hon. John Hart confirmed here yesterday the sale of $5,000,000 of British Columbia 4 per cent non-callable debentures maturing in ten years' time. Mr. Hart said $3,000,000 of the loan would be used to retire Treasury bills held by the bank which advanced that sum in March so that the Province could meet an earlier maturity, and $2,000,000 would be available for work upon provincial highways.

The issue, Mr. Hart said, is being handled by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Royal Bank of Canada and others in a syndicate of Toronto investment houses. The debentures will be sold to the public at $99 per $100, to yield approximately 4.125 per cent. The cost to the Province was not announced.

PURPOSE OUTLINED

In March of this year, British Columbia will have a bank accommodation to meet $3,000,000 maturing in an external loan, part of the $8,500,000 in maturities met by the Provincial Treasury this year. Treasury bills were used to cover the accommodation and now these are being funded.

The remaining $2,000,000, for highway purposes, is being borrowed under a $3,000,000 loan bill of the last regular session, leaving $1,000,000 of similar authority voted by the Legislature still unused.

The announcement, coming immediately before the opening of the House, forestalled an anticipated caucus drive for a definite highway programme next Spring. The issue was being heralded as the first British Columbia approach to the Canadian market since 1933.

AUSTRALIA WILL IMPORT TOBACCO

Agrees to Take Quantity of Leaf From Canada for the First Time

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P).—Trade Minister J. A. MacKinnon announced tonight the Australian Government has agreed to authorize importation of between 400,000 and 500,000 pounds of Canadian leaf tobacco. The minister, in a brief statement, said, "It is expected that this tobacco will be of the flue-cured type used for the manufacture of cigarettes. So far as is known this is the first time Canadian-grown tobacco has been imported into Australia."

The minister said the authorization came "as a result of the efforts of the Canadian Government trade commissioners in Australia."

Wartime Ceremonies Prevail at Opening Of B.C. Legislature

Governor Attends Commencement of Fifth Session—Some Members in Service Uniform—Speech From Throne Read and Business Conducted

BRITISH Columbia's Nineteenth Legislature commenced its fifth session at 3:05 p.m. yesterday in a strictly wartime atmosphere. The Speech from the Throne declared Britain had weathered the first year of the war stronger than when she started.

The House, in a solemn, standing tribute, passed a vote of sympathy to the relatives of 140 officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy lost on H.M.C.S. Margaree, and coupled with it the loss of forty-five additional lives in the R.M.S. Empress of Britain.

Half of the Conservative members were found to be with the colors, and three of them were present in uniform. Lieut.-Col. F. M. Macintosh, Capt. J. D. Hunter and Flying Officer E. V. Finland. Honor guards were

French Head of Somaliland Force Joins De Gaulle

FRENCH SEAMEN WANT TO SERVE

Sailors Aboard Demobilized Warships Ask to Join With Britain

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Oct. 29 (P).—Some seamen from the nine demobilized French warships at this British naval base publicly asked today to be allowed to rejoin the fight alongside the British.

An open letter from a French sailor to the commander of the British squadron here said the men urged Britain to use their ships. It was signed by Louis Martin-Brun and published in the newspaper La Bourne Egyptienne.

Since the French warships' demobilization last July 6, 2,000 of their crewmen have been sent home to France, but skeleton complements of several hundred men each still are aboard.

Objectives in Nazi and Nazi-Held Areas Subjected To Bombing By R.A.F.—Nineteen Airdromes Attacked—Ports and Railway Centres Visited—Gasoline Storage Dump Hit

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—The Royal Air Force's long-distance bombers continued their vigilant blasting of objectives in Nazi and Nazi-held territory. The Air Ministry listed as attacked the main German shipping yards and the often-bombed ports of Kiel, Wilhelmshaven, Bremen, Hamburg, Emden and Cuxhaven.

Nearer home the bombers struck at Boulogne, in France, attacking shipping in that "invasion" harbor, where the Nazis at various times have been reported massing an invasion fleet.

Fires were started at Hamburg, Cologne and at Hamburg, Germany's principal port, which has been consistently a target of British air attack since the R.A.F. began its raids in the Third Reich.

While these attacks were going on, other bombers struck at German railway centres, principally at Krefeld, Cologne, Koblenz and Mannheim.

Nineteen airdromes in Germany and occupied territory, and numerous anti-aircraft batteries were attacked.

Jamaica Has Provided for Ten Aircraft

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—More contributions to the British war effort were reported tonight by the British Broadcasting Corporation.

"Jamaica has now raised money for ten aircraft," the B.B.C. said, "and only two more planes are required to complete a Jamaica squadron."

The Allied Relief Fund of America had collected $34,500 (about $224,000) during the past six weeks for London air raid victims.

ATHENS REPORTS BRITISH LAND AT CORFU; ENEMY BASE BOMBED

From Europe Day by Day—
THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by The Southern Co.)
LONDON, Oct. 29.—"The Italian Pelony" is how The Times today describes Mussolini's attack on Greece after having given a solemn pledge of security and integrity only four months previously.

A pledge from Germany has now become a prelude to treacherous assault, and Italy is living well up to the standard set by her ally, says the newspaper. Italy's object is apparently that of securing Greece as a stepping-stone to Syria, to improved strategic position in the Eastern Mediterranean and to more formidable menaces to Turkey. The Italians are certain to bomb the Greek civilian population and in such congenial operations German aircraft from Rumania could take part. Greece's weakest point is her air force. The Greek army is small but efficient, and the Greek army should be able to make stout resistance in the mountainous country in which it is fighting.

If the Italians try to seize Greek island bases or Crete, the British fleet will have its opportunity, especially as it will not be able to use Greek ports without a breach of Greek neutrality. It will be strange, adds The Times, if the Aegean and Eastern Mediterranean do not shortly become the scene of lively naval actions.

Turkey prepared for whatever may be the outcome of the dictators' latest attempt to dominate Eastern Europe. Apparently Russia has protested against extension of the war to the Balkans. Turkey could render British good service now by watching Bulgaria, where the Axis diplomats are making a move to claim to an outlet to the Mediterranean at Greece's expense. Already Britain has arranged to send assistance to Greece, which is united in its determination to resist those who would destroy it.

So amazing have been the Royal Air Force attacks on Germany, now prolonged into Czechoslovakia, where the famous Skoda armament works have been bombed, that thousands of persons have been evacuated from Berlin and other cities. Polish pilots in Britain have already made their mark on the Nazi air force, and three of them, contrary to instructions, flew over Germany recently and did some private bombing of their own. Czech pilots are also helping to wreak vengeance in the air on the Nazis.

Czechoslovakia has become a poverty-stricken land owing to German looting of foodstuffs and raw materials. Even private furniture is seized in Czech houses and carried away. Forests are hewn down to obtain timber, and the Czechs are driven from homes so that German evacuees may be housed. But the Czech spirit remains unbroken and people listen to radio news despite draconian penalties. There is still much bitterness against Britain because of what the bulk of the nation considers "betrayal of Munich," but everyone realized freedom can come only by the overthrow of Hitler, and so the failure of the attack on Britain has been welcomed.

He denied there was a secret commitment by the President to Great Britain to lead the United States into war, saying:

"If President Roosevelt were as wicked as his opponents charge, which he is not, and even if he had undisclosed commitments, which he has not, the facts are against our participation in this war."

POSITIVE ASSURANCE

The ambassador asserted that in his post as representative of the American people in London, he would certainly become aware of any such commitment and that he could "assure you now with absolute sincerity and honesty that there has been no such commitment."

"We are rearming," he said, "because it is the only way in which America can stay out of war. If we rearm fast enough, America will

RUMANIAN VESSELS ARE ORDERED HOME

ITALIANS USING HEAVY ARTILLERY

Great Britain Sends Aid to Greece—Fleet Air Arm Carries Out Raids on Italian Positions—Hint That Turkey May Get Ultimatum—Rome Makes Claim of An Advance

Operations of Allies in Balkans Are Satisfactory

ATHENS, Oct. 29 (P).—British forces speeding aid to Greece were reported here today to have got the jump on Italy by landing on ancient Corfu Island, the old sentinel deemed important in control of both the Balkans and the Adriatic Sea.

(This report was not confirmed in London.)
Accounts of the British landing were circulated here as Greek mountaineers were reported holding the Italians back along the Albanian border under their old battle cry, "We shall throw them into the sea."

Official quarters confined themselves to the announcement: "Operations are developing satisfactorily." General headquarters said communiques would be issued only once a day, late in the evening.

It was understood the British Command planned to establish air bases on Corfu for the dual purpose of helping guard Greek cities against attack and to place them within easy striking distance of Italian military objectives.

NO QUESTION OF RESPONSE

Plans Discussed to Expand Campaign for War Savings Subscriptions

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P).—Once the Canadian people become conscious of the imperative needs of the war programme, there will be no question of their response to the war savings campaign or any other worthwhile war effort, Dr. W. C. Clark, deputy minister of finance, told a meeting of the war savings committee tonight.

Dr. Clark was speaking at the close of a two-day session of the national group which discussed plans for a more extensive campaign to enlist 2,000,000 regular "war savers."

During its meeting the committee raised its objective for war savings certificate subscriptions from an annual rate of $50,000,000 to at least $120,000,000.

THE ONLY LIMIT

Dr. Clark said the only limit to Canada's war effort was the physical capacity of the country, with its labor power, plant facilities and natural resources.

No phase of war economics or finance was more important than the war savings campaign, he said. "War savings certificates are twice blessed, as they tend to prevent inflation during the war years, and also tend to prevent deflation in the post-war period."

National income for the current year was estimated at $4,700,000,000, and a conservative estimate for the year 1941 was $5,000,000,000.

Roosevelt Is Waiting for Development

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (P).—President Roosevelt decided today to wait more complete information from the Balkans before invoking the United States Neutrality Act with its cash and carry provisions in the war between Greece and Italy.

Stephen Early, White House secretary, said the President had been advised to take this course by Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Sumner Welles, under-secretary of state.

ITALIAN ATTACK WAS EXPECTED

Greek Army Struck First Blow at Many Places On Frontier

CAIRO, Oct. 29 (P).—Greek leaders in Egypt said tonight they had learned from home that the Greek army had expected the Italian attack and as a result had struck the first blow at the Italians at many places on the Albanian-Greek frontier.

They added that the mountainous troops pushed artillery through several valleys into Albania while Greek planes dropped pamphlets urging Albanians to revolt.

Greece's resistance, coming after the Egyptians had heard it said that the "Greeks will never fight," had a rousing effect in this British-Allied country. The Egyptians tensely awaited the outcome, with the full realization of its possible effect here.

Meanwhile, British authorities kept secret their move to help the Greeks from Egyptian bases and at the same time redoubled preparations to meet any subsequent Axis move in this direction.

MAY BE PLANNING FOR GREATER AID

American and British Officials Meeting in Washington—Planes and More Destroyers Suggested

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (P).—Two meetings of American and British officials here today created speculation that some new step to help Britain may be in the making.

None of the conferees would discuss the meetings. Among possible topics were proposals to sell some huge bombing planes, more destroyers, or an increased share of American production of new aircraft.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, who is the Administration's liaison man on such matters with Britain, presided at both meetings in his office. The first included nearly all the ranking officials in the national defence programme, the second, which followed in five minutes, included only British representatives and a few Morgenthau subordinates.

Among those attending was Arthur B. Purvis, head of the British Purchasing Commission.

Canadian Anti-Tank Unit Ready for Any Emergency Say Men

"It's Like Potting Ducks on a Pond," Declares Sergeant-in-Charge of Eastern Canada's Battery—Crew Gives Demonstration

WITH THE C.A.S.F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Oct. 29 (P).—An Eastern Canadian Anti-Tank Regiment has learned to handle its compact guns so well that the gunners say it's going to be like shooting ducks when they draw sights on enemy tanks.

"You just can't miss at 600 yards," said Sgt. R. P. Williamson, of Ottawa. "It's like potting ducks on a pond."

The regiment is established in winter billets but its trucks, guns and equipment are kept packed away and ready to speed to any new position on short notice.

The Ottawa battery, commanded by Major George Hutchinson, former dentist in the capital, is representative of the regiment's efficiency in operating the guns.

In a demonstration of how quickly the battery can move into position, a blast on a whistle brought the trucks rumbling along a road, towing the guns as swiftly as a light trailer. As the trucks rolled to a stop in an open area, troops spilled from the machines, unhooked the guns and cleared them for action in twenty-five seconds. The battery's anti-aircraft guns and light anti-tank rifles also were mounted and ready by the time the anti-tank guns were in place.

While gunnery is the principal concern of these Ottawans, considerable interest centres in a new mess hall which Major Hutchinson is having his men build in an old barn near the billets.

"It is giving my men something to do apart from the regular gunnery practice, and it will provide a warm place where they can be better fed and have good recreational quarters," said the major.

A brick floor has been laid, and before the cold weather sets in the old barn will be turned into one of the best messes in the Canadian campment.

WILL CONSIDER SAILORS' CLUB

Esquimalt Council to Discuss Amending to Zoning By-Law

A special meeting of the Esquimalt council will be held next Monday evening to discuss a proposed amendment to the zoning by-law, so that a naval recreation club for sailors can be established in Brydon House at the corner of Head Street and Old Esquimalt Road.

A request to convert the premises into a recreation centre for naval men was made by Mrs. W. B. L. Holmes, wife of the commanding officer of the Naval Barracks, on behalf of a committee, comprising: Mrs. J. W. R. Beech, wife of Commander Beech, and Mrs. G. B. Hope, wife of Commander Hope.

Holmes pointed out that there were about 2,000 men stationed at the barracks and more were to be expected.

The club, she said, would provide dancing, games, reading and writing rooms, and would have a small dry canteen.

"All the wives of the naval officers and a vast majority of the ratings' wives feel with us the need for such a club and are willing to cooperate," Mrs. Holmes explained.

No liquor would be sold or allowed on the premises and a naval patrol would be in attendance.

Assistant Fire Marshal Chief H. W. V. Pecknold wrote, informing the council that a request from Mrs. M. A. Dickenson to rebuild the cabins at 615 Constance Avenue, which had been destroyed by fire, was being considered.

Recently the cabins were largely destroyed by fire, in which one of the occupants, Walter Appleby, lost his life.

BUILDINGS CONDEMNED
"What was left of the buildings was condemned under the Fire Marshal's Act, having been destroyed to more than 75 per cent of their value," the chief said. Buildings such as these were prohibited under the zoning by-law when destroyed to the extent mentioned and could not be rebuilt.

A complaint from Charles and Ellen Badger, Wollaston Street, and fourteen other residents of the municipality about the unsightly condition of an old shed on Wollaston Street, used as a garage, was laid on the table for further consideration. At the present time the council is seeking an amendment to existing legislation that will give it power to remove unsightly buildings.

YOUNGER MEN IN THIS WAR

Active Leaders in the Fighting Services Well Under Sixty Years

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—Youth is having its fling in this war with the active leaders of the three British fighting services well under the age of sixty.

The appointment of Vice-Admiral John C. Tovey as Commander-in-Chief, Home Fleet, represents an average age of fifty-four for the four men who personally lead the fighting forces of the army, navy and air force.

General Sir John Brooke, Commander-in-Chief, Home Forces, is fifty-seven; Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, who directs all operations of the Royal Air Force, is forty-seven; Admiral Tovey, who leads all naval units in home waters is fifty-five, and Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham is fifty-seven.

CHIEF OF STAFF
General Sir John Dill, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, the man who deals with long-range strategy in all theatres of war and is the connecting link between the armed forces and the War Cabinet, is fifty-nine. The only "old man" in the high command of any service is Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound, First Sea Lord and Chief of the Naval Staff, and he is only sixty-three.

The appointment of Admiral Tovey has emphasised this is a young man's war and a war of small ships. He had had a long and brilliant record with the navy, specializing in destroyers and destroyer flotillas.

AND SMALL SHIPS
From the first day this has been a small-ships war, a war of destroyers, cruisers, submarines and even torpedo-boats. But the battle fleets remain the pivots for the whole naval campaign, holding the Mediterranean and the North Sea against the Italian and German navies while the small vessels escort convoys, lay and sweep mines, patrol commerce routes and blockade enemy countries. This work would be impossible unless the big ships were there to hold the sea against sudden raids by enemy battleships and battle cruisers.

If the German or Italian navies ever agree to a big-scale naval action in the North Sea or Mediterranean, it is believed here that Admiral Tovey and Admiral Cunningham, with their vast experience of small ships, will apply the Beatty touch that played so important a part at the Battle of Jutland in the last war.

GERMANS PERMITTED NEWS OF BALKAN WAR

BERLIN, Oct. 29 (P).—The German public knew today that Italy had served an ultimatum on Greece but it was kept in ignorance of the fact that a new battlefront for the Axis actually had developed. Naval newspapers published the text of and twenty-minute, patrol Italian ultimatum with comment from Rome as to why it was sent, but made no mention of Greece's decision to fight.

Instead, columns were devoted to the Florence meeting of Mussolini and Hitler, with assurances that it was all part of development toward the Axis vision of a new Europe.

HOLY COMMUNION
Friday, November 1, being All Saints Day, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at St. Mark's Church at 10 a.m.

DRILL TEAM WILL HAVE BUSY TIME

Victoria Girls Do Much to Spread Name of City on Pacific Coast—Entertain Troops

One of the most spectacular measures in spreading the name of Victoria up and down the Pacific Coast, the Victoria Girls' Drill Team is undergoing strenuous training in perfecting new drills as they enter the winter season of one of their most successful years. Already they have been made to have the team provide entertainment at some thirteen service camps this season.

The girls, under the leadership of Captain Norman Foster, have marched their way to fame in their intricate drills at various functions along the Pacific Coast. During their visit to the Portland Rose Festival, they made seven appearances, with a total of twenty-eight hours on parade.

Pictures of the team and of Victoria will be shown throughout the United States and Canada, as a result of the team's participation in a travelogue movie taken here recently, as well as in numerous shorter filmings.

Mentioned extensively in connection with Victoria in the foreign press, the girls have also materially aided in worthy charitable undertakings locally. In addition, many organizations presenting performances and conventions here have been aided by the team.

Nearly 800,000 Men Will Begin Training Between Now and Next June—President and Secretary of War Present at Drawing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (P).—Henry Stimson, United States Secretary of War, blindfolded, groped into a famous old goldfish bowl today with his left hand and then withdrew it, grasping a tiny blue cylinder.

The cylinder contained the first number in the United States selective draft for war service. Nearly 800,000 men will begin, between now and June 15, 1941, a year's military training.

An army officer opened the first cylinder and took out a numbered slip. He handed it to President Roosevelt.

"The first number drawn by the Secretary of War is Serial Number 158," Mr. Roosevelt announced slowly.

Other officials, Cabinet members, members of Congress and a long procession of veterans each drew a capsule from the bowl. Then expert crews from Selective Service headquarters took over the job, destined to run far into the night.

AMERICAN SYSTEM
In many respects the United States Compulsory Service Act resembles Canada's National Service Mobilization Act. But it is different in essential features. Canada draws first from the lowest age class of single men. In the United States all men who were between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-five, inclusive, October 18 last were called upon to register.

They registered to the extent of about 17,000,000 men. The draw in Washington will determine the order in which the men will be called for military training.

The United States was divided into some 6,500 local board districts. The registration cards of men in the districts were numbered, consecutively, from one up.

Numbers drawn from the glass bowl—also used in 1917 during the war-time draft—corresponded to the numbers in each local board district. Thus, No. 158, the first drawn, is the number in each of the local board districts first on the list for call.

Each local board has been given a quota of men it must furnish for training to fill out the number of men requisitioned by the army.

HAVE QUESTIONNAIRE
The local board will work on the numerical list drawn in Washington. Men whose numbers have been called, up to the quantity of manpower required in each local district, will be sent a questionnaire eight pages long. After the questions are answered, the questionnaire will give a picture of the man's status as a citizen, describing his physical condition, his dependents, his feelings about war and his occupation.

Local boards will classify registrants from the questionnaire. The call for service will go, in the first instance, only to those qualified in—generally those without dependents, physically fit and not engaged in an occupation essential to the country in time of war. They will be given a medical examination and, if they pass, will be sent to the nearest training camp.

The act provides that at no time during peace will more than 800,000 be in training. The first general encampment opens November 18 with 30,000 in training, and the subsequent calls will be: 60,000 men

Canadian Factories To Make Big Bombs Within Short Time

Plant to Be Located "Somewhere in Quebec," Munitions Minister Announces—Missiles to Weigh From 40 to 1,000 Pounds

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P).—Production of 500-pound aerial bombs will be started next February in a huge plant now being completed "somewhere in Quebec," Munitions Minister Howe announced tonight.

"Normal output of the plant will be well over 100,000 bombs a year," Mr. Howe said in a statement. "This will be the first time that aerial bombs of any kind, other than a comparatively few practice bombs, have been made in a Canadian factory."

The long-range programme of the Munitions Department will eventually embrace all sizes and types of bombs for which there is a demand. They will range in weight from forty to 1,000 pounds, and from the common high-explosive bombs to aerial projectiles capable of piercing heavy armor plate.

PLANTS NEAR READY
The minister's statement said Canadian plants will be ready "within a very short time" to begin manufacture of a large quantity of two-inch and three-inch trench mortar bombs and 303 rifle grenades. Plans are also under consideration for the production in Canada of anti-tank mines and depth charges. This type of munition has never before been made in Canada.

Already preparations have been made for production in Canada of a fleet of 3,000 tanks of a new design. Cost of these tanks alone will be about $150,000,000. Production on these machines is expected to begin early in the new year and was made possible by development of satisfactory armor plate by Canadian engineers.

Mr. Howe has said the output of various Government-owned plants might run to about $800,000,000 annually when they are in full operation.

Lieutenant-Governor Opens Session

Honorable E. W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, mounting the steps to the main entrance of the Legislative Buildings to open the fifth session of the Nineteenth Legislature, yesterday afternoon. Escorting His Honor, in service dress for the Legislature's second wartime session, are Colonel Vincent McKenna, M.C., and Lieut.-Commander C. E. Donaldson, R.C.N.V.R. Behind Mr. Hamber is A. M. D. Fairbairn, His Honor's secretary.

mile block of land in the Italian-owned group off Turkey and south-east of Greece.

The communiqué said a hangar was set on fire, and the airplane runway damaged by a direct hit. A number of bombs were dropped on the barracks, and other bombs caused heavy explosions in the ammunition dump.

The ammunition explosions continued for some time after the air-planes had left the area, pilots reported. No British planes were lost. The time of the attack was not given.

Reports from Athens told of British blue-jackets landing on the island of Corfu, and unconfirmed reports said the British fleet beat Italian ships back from that island, which is in good striking distance of the Italian mainland. These reports are not confirmed by British authorities.

(The British fleet Monday was reported to have begun the occupation of Crete, about 100 miles from Stampalia, but British authorities denied that any British troops had landed there and said the report was probably circulated by the enemy.)

EXPERT'S VIEWPOINT
The British military expert said there were three possibilities in the Balkan situation:

1. Germany might use political and military pressure and "disruptive propaganda" to protect her large economic interests in the Middle East, without taking military action.

2. Germany might try to move southeast through Thrace to the Dardanelles. But, he remarked, the country is difficult and at this time of the year weather conditions are against a major campaign.

3. Germany might go through the Ukraine into Southern Russia to acquire oil.

While this country was preoccupied with the fortunes of the Greeks—Britain's allies—against the Italians, the First Lord of the Admiralty, A. V. Alexander, assured "our friends in Greece and America" that the Royal Navy will do everything it can to aid Greece.

Help, he added, "has already begun."

He did not elaborate, but other informants said that British assistance is being given to the Greeks "in the widest sense of the term" by air and sea. Speaking at a luncheon, Mr. Alexander said the greatest difficulty thus far met by the British fleet in the Mediterranean had been the Italian navy's "long periods of rest in harbors."

He spoke of the United States transfer of fifty destroyers to Britain, expressing his appreciation and adding:

"I hope the Royal Navy may look for even greater co-operation."

THREAT TO TURKEY
BERLIN, Oct. 30 (P).—Turkey may soon receive an ultimatum similar to that which Italy served on Greece, the Foreign Office commentary Diplomatique und politische Korrespondenz intimated early today.

"Wherever British bases and hide-outs exist, they must be extirpated in the interests of the European community," said the commentary. "This naturally applies also to the Mediterranean."

Turkey and Italian-invaded Greece are the last remaining Balkan states linked with Britain by mutual aid pledges.

Earlier another commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, indicated that Hitler and Mussolini agreed at Florence yesterday upon some unified drive against Britain, in which Spain and France may have a role.

Further, the newspaper, Essener National Zeitung, owned by Goering, predicted the next Axis step will be an attempt to divorce Europe, Asia and Africa from Britain so that no port outside the British Isles will be open to British warships.

Dienst Aus Deutschland made this enumeration on the outcome in the recent Florence meeting:

1. British efforts to "sabotage the Axis" work of continental unity have strengthened Italian-German determination to strip the continent of all British positions and influences. "In Florence, the removal of all English bases in the interests of the coming European community doubtless was regarded as a decisive precondition of European reconstruction."

2. This same view holds true for the Mediterranean area, in which "England knew how to secure the possibilities for exercising influence through guarantees." Under the "tolerance of certain 'neutral' countries," this influence remained effective and "has become a permanent danger." Greece is an example of "the consequences of such a mistaken policy."

REPORT FROM ROME
ROME, Oct. 29 (P).—Fascist sources hinted tonight at impending Axis military and diplomatic offensives on a far larger scale than the two-day-old invasion of Greece, of which the Italian people heard only today.

A high command communiqué was the first Italian announcement to their own people that Fascist forces had moved at dawn yesterday against the Greek frontier.

All it said was that "the advance is continuing" and that important Greek bases were bombed. Diplomatic circles claimed that Italian troops had driven ten miles toward Florina, on the way to Salonika at the top of the Aegean Sea.

Belief was expressed in foreign circles that the Axis may be aiming as far as the Dardanelles.

Some observers said negotiations between the Rome-Berlin partners and Moscow were the probable next major move, intended to keep Soviet Russia out of the Balkans by offering her a free hand elsewhere.

Others looked toward pressure on Portugal, Britain's ancient ally.

One outcome of the Florence meeting of Hitler and Mussolini widely predicted is direct negotiations for a peace settlement between Italy and France.

MUST CARRY THEIR ORIGINAL CERTIFICATES

OTTAWA, Oct. 23 (P).—Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, associate deputy minister of National War Services, told Canadians tonight it is useless to have photostatic copies made of their National Registration certificates.

Mr. Justice Davis said he has received information that at several points in the country persons are having such copies made.

"There is nothing in our regulations to prevent that," he said, "but the law requires every person to carry the original certificate. Possession of photostatic copies will not satisfy the law."

PAYS TRIBUTE TO SAILORMEN

J. B. Priestley Says No German Devilry Can Keep Them Ashore

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—J. B. Priestley, English novelist, said "we couldn't fight this war a month without our merchant service" when he spoke tonight on the British Broadcasting Corporation's "Britain Speaks" feature.

"Fortunately for the British Commonwealth of Nations," he said, "there is no devilry that Hitler and his gang can devise that can keep these men from going to sea."

The work of the merchant seamen was defeating the attempted German counter-blockade of Britain and keeping a steady stream of food and supplies flowing into the Mother Country. This meant "another headache for Hitler."

CANNOT BE STOPPED
"We have had losses. It is true," he added, "but the convoys come and go and cannot be stopped. And in the shipyards the new hulls are going up."

"The Empire of Britain may have gone, but all the men who built her are hard at work."

Priestley said survivors of the sunken Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain were entertained in a town in the North of England after their rescue.

"Several hundred men, apparently all the rescued crew of the liner, were sitting in the lobby of a hotel, waiting for trains to take them to the home towns," he said.

"The men were in all manner of costumes, a few were bandaged, and some showed signs of exhaustion and shock."

WANTED NO SPEECHES
They did not want any speeches of sympathy, but demanded entertainment, Priestley added. What they appreciated most was his piano accompaniment of their songs.

"The men seemed to forget their troubles and the loss of their beautiful ship, and roared out lustily," Priestley continued.

"There was something terribly moving about the scene—the men sitting in the crowded lobby, and their faces losing signs of strain as they sang."

BOMBERS CONTINUE EXTENSIVE RAIDS

The Air Ministry news service said warships under construction at Hamburg, Bremen and Kiel were attacked and that extensive damage was caused by bombs and incendiaries.

Bremen warehouses and dockside factories were fired and great fires were left burning in the Hamburg and Kiel shipyards after repeated hits were scored.

Relays of bombs caused explosions and fires on the Wilhelmshaven docks and barracks and incendiaries fell across the gasoline storage area of the Emden naval base.

The raid on Stampalia was marked by a number of direct hits on hangars and ammunition dumps. Ammunition explosions continued for some time after the airplanes left the area, pilots said.

The Air Ministry announced tonight Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, who took over the post of chief of the air staff on October 25, had been promoted to the rank of acting air chief marshal.

MANY GIVING TO WAR FUND

Residents of Canada and United States Helping Dominion's Efforts

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P).—Approximately 1,000 residents of Canada and the United States have contributed $903,000 toward the war effort by voluntary donations to the Finance Department, The Canadian Press learned tonight.

This amount does not include voluntary contributions, amounting to $2,000,000, made to the Air Ministry for research, nor amounts contributed toward war charities, through the Travel Bureau, by individuals in the United States.

Up to date the sum subscribed to the nation's non-interest bearing loan inaugurated August 15 and aiming at $10,000,000 is $2,810,382.

Voluntary contributions, starting briskly as the war opened, fell off considerably after the evacuation of Dunkerque. But when Hitler's misnamed blitzkrieg against Britain started, loans bounced up again and gained enormously, it was said.

Official records show that many contributions came from foreign language persons and groups. For example, Japanese organizations on the Pacific Coast sent several donations. A Czech who came to Canada thirty-nine years ago sent in his bit.

LOYAL ITALIANS
"Loyal Italians" in Western Canada forwarded a sum, a Hungarian in California contributed $25, the Anglo-Hellenic Educational Progressive Association sent some money.

Others who contributed largely out of small means were more than 200 pensioners of the first Great War, who allocated certain parts of their income to help the war effort.

A woman in Timmins, Ont., operating on a limited family budget, sends every month whatever small sum she can spare, officials said. It varies with seasonal prices of food and fuel needs.

Most of the amounts received are for sums ranging from $1 to $5. A class in the Balmoral School in Calgary sent $5 ordinarily spent on a class treat.

An anonymous contributor, apparently of some wealth, pledged $2,000 a year for duration of the war.

IN MANY FORMS
Money comes in ear-marked for everything from 250 soldiers' uniforms to a Bren gun, and it comes in from everything from selling lemonade in Toronto to the returns on beaver skins in the North country.

A lighthouse keeper allocated $3 a month from his not-too-large pay, cheque.

Contributions to Air Minister Power's research fund have included $250,000 each from the T. Eaton Co. of Toronto, and Samuel Bronfman and his three brothers of Montreal.

Other substantial contributors were the International Nickel Company of Canada, Canadian Pacific Railway and the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company.

Meantime, Canada has floated two war loans, the first for $250,000,000 and the second for $300,000,000. Both were oversubscribed.

GERMANS ATTACK AT HEAVY COST

The Queen, paying no attention to an air raid alarm then shrieking through London, visited food and clothing distributing centres.

This was the Air Ministry news service's account of the Scottish squadron's action:

"In a ten-minute air battle fought at 300 miles an hour over Kent today a Scottish auxiliary squadron shot down eight Messerschmitt 109's. This fight took place shortly after midnight when about fifty Messerschmitt 109's tried to reach London. Nearly all of them were turned back by anti-aircraft gunfire and our fighters."

RACED FOR HOME
"Flying nearly six miles high the Scottish auxiliary Spitfire pilots spotted the enemy when they saw anti-aircraft shells burst near a formation of fifty Messerschmitt 109's. Immediately, the Spitfires gave chase. The German pilots raced for home at full throttle, but before they could reach the coast, the Spitfires had shot down four more."

"Even when the British pilots had not finished they chased the enemy formation out to sea, shooting down four more."

During the day the south coast and factory towns in the Midlands also were under heavy attack. There were casualties, too, in Northern England.

WOMEN READY FOR CAMPAIGN

Community Chest Volunteers Discuss Plans for Drive Next Week

Volunteer women workers for the Community Chest—those who undertake the arduous house-to-house canvass to help swell the fund upon which Victoria's social welfare organizations depend, held an enthusiastic meeting at the home of Miss Sara Spencer yesterday afternoon, the second meeting this week for the purpose of planning for the opening of the $100,000 drive on Monday next.

The workers heard brief talks by Duncan MacBride, campaign chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Barr, Community Chest secretary, who explained the contents of the "kit" supplied to the canvassers. Mrs. Robin Piers and Mrs. A. E. Harris presented an amusing skit, cleverly written to give the volunteers some guidance in how to approach "prospects."

PREVENTION MEASURES

The value of the doctrine that prevention is better than cure was emphasized during a discussion of reasons why character-building and youth guidance institutions are included in the agencies supported by the Community Chest. In a discussion on delinquency, its prevention and its attempted cure, Mrs. Cushing, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., spoke on the character-building agencies; Miss L. Meas, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, on rebuilding the delinquent; Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell, on the work of the John Howard Society; Miss D. Yates, on rebuilding the family, and Miss A. Cressor, superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, on community health.

Last night an organizational dinner meeting of "B" Division, the group which attends to the canvassing of business offices, was held. Community Chest officers will address many meetings this week of employees of large industrial plants, explaining the work of the chest and agencies, and speakers will be made available for all groups desiring such enlightenment.

stay out of war. It is today our guarantee of peace."

Dwelling specifically on the war issue, Kennedy said: "If we declare war, our own best interests would be harmed. England's valiant fight is giving us time to prepare. Without assistance from us the British will find it much more difficult to carry on."

HARMFUL TO BRITAIN

He said nothing could be more harmful from the viewpoint of Great Britain than a declaration of war by United States.

Discussing the possibility that the United States could be attacked, Kennedy said that problem presented "the same difficulties to any belligerent that our attacking them does."

NEWER TRENDS IN LITERATURE

Soviet Urging Creative Writings of Communist Principles of Rulers

MOSCOW, Oct. 29 (P)—New tendencies in Soviet literature are expected to manifest themselves shortly, as a result of a recent special session of the Presidium of the Writers' Union, in which it is reported unofficially, Joseph Stalin, Andrei Zhdanov and other Soviet leaders participated.

Stalin is understood to have spoken several times at the meeting, which lasted seven hours, pointing out defects in contemporary Soviet letters, and urging the writers of the U.S.S.R. to learn from the great classics of the Russian as well as of world literature.

THE SPARTAN LIFE

The new trends are expected to take the form of realistic depiction of the Spartan life Soviet youth is urged to lead, as well as emphasize in terms of creative writing the Communist principles of the ruling party.

Virtually all Stalin's speeches abound in literary allusions, and it was he who coined the definition of a writer as "engineer of human souls."

Several Russian authors, such as Alexander Fadeyeff, secretary of the Writers' Union, and Alexei Tolstoy, the former count and relative of Leo Tolstoy, are among the comparatively few frequent guests at the Kremlin.

To Relieve Bad Cough Quickly, Mix This at Home

Does the Work in a Hurry. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother probably used, and for real results, it's still a very dependable thing for distressing coughs. Try it once, and you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few minutes until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it.

Now put 2 1/2 ounces of Pines into a 16 oz. bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid cough remedy—more than you could buy for four times the money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

This splendid home mixture has a three-fold action. You can feel it take hold at once. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membrane, and helps clear the air passages. This explains why it gives such prompt, pleasing results.

Pines is a compound containing Norway Pine and balsam of gaulthier, in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat membranes. Honey refueled if it doesn't please you in every way.

Farmerettes' Box Social Novel Dance Attraction

Solarium Junior League Hostesses at Amusing Party at Yacht Club—Prizes Given for Costumes—"Scarecrows" Dance

Members of the Solarium Junior League, with their fair for fun and parties, held a novel dance last night at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, the party being called the Farmerettes' Box Social. It was organized on Leap Year lines, the ladies inviting their partners and providing the supper.

One for the evening was the usual nautical appearance of the Yacht Club, for the committee in charge of the dance arrangements had ingeniously turned it into a temporary "barn." Sheaves of wheat and cornstalks, pumpkins, hayrakes, pitchforks, and other farm implements adorned the dance room, and the orchestra dais was hardly distinguishable among the wheat and straw with which it was surrounded. Even the orchestra members entered into the spirit of the occasion by donning old "farm" clothes. There were boxes of apples from which the guests were at liberty to help themselves, and it was quite usual to see an overall-clad "farmer" and his gingham-gowned lass happily munching apples in the intervals between dances.

BOX SUPPERS

As the guests arrived, their "box suppers" were checked, and at supper-time these were collected and carried upstairs to the dining-room where, seated on tables of hay round the room the dancers, who numbered 200, sat to eat their refreshments. Coffee was provided by the Junior League members.

During the evening an entertaining novelty song and dance number was given, and this proved a great "hit" with the onlookers. "Down by the Ohio" was the popular song chosen by Mrs. Ian McCallum and Mrs. R. D. McCullough, dressed in appropriate costumes, and the Scarecrow Chorus comprised Mrs. Denis Humphries, Miss Doreen Catron, Miss June Sweeting and Mrs. A. Pitkethley. Their costumes were particularly worthy of note, baggy trousers, striped shirts, battered hats from which wisps of straw protruded and long, gangling scarecrow arms giving a realistic as well as a fantastic version of scarecrows, which brought forth spontaneous applause as they entered and went through their dance antics.

PRIZES GIVEN

Prizes for costumes were presented by Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Whitaker, of Vancouver, whose task was no easy one among the many comic milkmaids, farmers and farmerettes present.

The proceeds of the dance will go towards the Solarium Junior League's general fund. Those responsible for the success of the undertaking were Miss Helen Eve, general convener; Mrs. A. Radford, Mrs. A. Baker and Miss Helen Parkinson.

The committee and members of the league welcomed many members of the navy, army and air force, who attended as guests of the members and their friends.

Clubs-Societies

Tells Story Of Journey In Arabia

All the thrill of adventure, without its discomforts, was vicariously enjoyed by more than 500 members of the Women's Canadian Club who crowded the Empress ballroom yesterday afternoon to hear the distinguished Arabian explorer and Orientalist, Dr. Bertram Thomas, O.B.E., tell the story of his 650-mile journey by camel-back through the mysterious and forbidden great South Arabian desert of Rub al Khali, which hitherto had defeated explorers.

The story, graphically told, and revealing the speaker's knowledge of Arab character, history, religion and customs, was further enlivened by a series of beautiful colored lantern slides made from actual photographs. A large map was used to indicate the dog-leg route followed from the south coast of Arabia northwards and eastwards to the Persian Gulf, the entire journey taking two months.

To even older inhibitions forbidding the passage of non-Mohammedans through the country, Dr. Thomas, following Sir Richard Burton's example, adopted Arab dress, grew a beard "because all good Mohammedans swear by the beard," and bribed an Arab hand-somely to act as his guide and companion throughout the journey.

FORBIDDEN LAND

Arabia, a country as big as Europe without Russia, during the last 100 years had been visited by only about twenty Europeans, chiefly because of the vast sterility of the land and the Arabs' aversion to European contact, the speaker said. Although generally imagined as an arid desert part of the country was shown to possess big mountain ranges, partly forested. The mountain people were cave-dwellers, their cattle, which lived in their caves with them, represented their entire wealth.

An interesting picture shown by Dr. Thomas was of ancient stones covered with characters similar to those used by the early Phoenicians. Dating back to about 1000 B.C., these were real finds, some of which subsequently were presented to the British Museum.

The zigzag course taken by the expedition was explained as being due to the camels, which depended on pasture, and the course, therefore, had to follow the direction of oases and pasture.

Mrs. James Adam presided, and Miss Margaret Clay moved the vote of thanks to the speaker, Mrs. C. H. Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Warn, contributed two numbers, "A Picture" and "My Land." The two burlesque winners, Miss Elizabeth Carr, of Norfolk House School, and John Dewey, Oak Bay High School, were introduced. It was announced that Mme. Julie Matouskova, formerly general secretary of the Y.W.C.A. in Prague, Czechoslovakia, would address a meeting of the club on Tuesday, November 5.

Royal Oak Inn Is Scene Of Reception

In the rectory of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, the Willows, the marriage was solemnized at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the presence of relatives only, of Vivian Marguerite, eldest daughter of Captain and Mrs. A. A. Ransom, Esquimalt, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ransom, "Woolahra," Wilkeson Road, and Lieutenant James Sutherland Chisholm Fraser, R.C.A., only son of the late Mr. J. S. C. Fraser, Victoria, and of Mrs. Fraser, at present in Shanghai. Rev. Father Buckley officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in a gown of ivory velvet with a slight train and a shirred bodice with long fitted sleeves. The lower point of the double veil extended to the end of the train and fell softly from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

THE ATTENDANTS

Miss Phyllis Ransom was her sister's maid of honor; in a pretty frock of fuchsia taffeta with a full skirt billowing from a corded waistline and a shirred bodice. Miss Phyllis Dickinson, cousin of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid, wearing a graceful frock of mauve chiffon with a very full skirt falling from a deep gathered hip-line. They both wore tiny floral hats edged with purple velvet and purple streamers, and carried bouquets of apricot-shaded single chrysanthemums tied with matching tulle. Lieutenant John Shanahan, R.C.A., was groomsmen.

RECEPTION HELD

Additional guests were present at a reception held in the dining-room of the Royal Oak Inn, where they were welcomed by the bride's grandmother in a "soldier" blue dress with black accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and mother in a raisin-wine dress and hat en suite, and a shoulder bouquet of Tallman roses. Flowers in shades of mauve and pink had been attractively arranged throughout the room, and vases of asters adorned the refreshment tables. Before the bride cut the cake with her husband's sword, the toast was proposed by Lieutenant G. Kamoff-Nicholsky, R.C.A. For a honeymoon Up-Island by motor, the bride left in a smart frock of copra wool trimmed with gold buttons, a camel's hair coat with a wolf collar, a brown velvet turban and accessories and a corsage bouquet of yellow roses. Lieutenant and Mrs. Fraser will make their home on Nicholson Road, Saanich.

"You study chemistry?"
"No; this is my wife's dressing table."

KINGSTON, ONT.—From this city comes the news that tomato juice is made much more flavorful by adding a little H. P. Sauce. Try this idea yourself and you will enjoy tomato juice with more zest than ever.

H. P. Sauce is a general favourite and has been used in cooking and on the table for many years. Being a thick, rich, fruity sort of sauce, H. P. Sauce has extraordinary flavouring power. It makes hot and cold dishes of every description taste much nicer. Use this English sauce for adding flavour to soups, stews, meat pies, gravies, macaroni, chops, steaks, cheese dishes and so on.

"Devil's Work"

By CAROLYN WELLS

(Copyright, 1940, by Carolyn Wells Houshion)

CHAPTER III
"Glad to have you. The jungle seems to agree with you. Never saw you looking better."

"Yes, two years of swamps and tigers is an infallible tonic. And Jean has blossomed into a perfect chameleon. That doesn't surprise me, for I know she can be anything she wants to be. She and Vivian are a handsome couple."

"They're an ideal couple. The same interests, the same sense of humor, the same good dispositions." "Hold hard, there. We're not crediting Vivian Forrest with a good disposition, are we?" "Why not? Oh, I remember. You were in Jean's net yourself before you went away, weren't you?" "I don't care for the way you put it, but, yes, I have long admired Jean, as anyone must who knows her. I'm glad she's so congenially mated."

"No one is all happy, from his back to his tail, as Kipling or a Chinese proverb or somebody said. But Jean is satisfied—with her home and her husband and her baby, and—forgive me—but I hope you won't stir her up, with old memories and all that."

Sayre stared at the speaker. "I beg your pardon," he said.

"Oh, you know what I mean. Vivian has his faults, and it's good of Jean to put up with them as she does, but he is very jealous, and if Jean—"

"I cannot let you go to talk to me as I know you want to talk, and I'd rather stop now."

"All right, then. I only meant a friendly hint, for Jean's sake."

"For Jean's sake? Then she isn't happy with Vivian? Is he—does he—"

"Yes, he is and he does. He flirts with any of our sort that he happens to admire, and—some of other sorts."

"Does Jean know?" "Rather! Why, once or twice he has brought a film star out here for a week-end."

"And Jean—"

"She was perfect. A correct hostess, smiling, pleasant, just a trace of hauteur, but giving Viv no chance for criticism. But the film lady in each case had no wish to come again."

"Why are you telling me this?" Brandon Sayre looked inquiringly reproachful.

Austin Forrest returned the explorer's gaze. Unlike his brother, Austin had a strong, fine face, and an air of justified self-confidence. He spoke slowly and definitely.

"Because I knew you would hear it from someone else, and I'd rather be the one to tell you. And I mean it when I tell you of Vivian's fierce jealousy of his wife. And if you and Jean pick up your old love affair, it will mean a hell of a time for her, and incidentally for yourself."

"I deny that Jean and I ever had a love affair!"

"All right, Sayre; we won't quibble over words. And if you and she are not specially interested in each other, so much the better for all concerned. But take a friend's advice and don't let such an interest begin."

"I'm half inclined to knock you down."

"Oh, don't be silly. Put that off for a day or two, and see how things work out. Do you fence?"

"Yes, I may say I do."

"Then there's your chance. If you really want to knock me down, do it with fells. I'm a rotten fencer."

"Time enough for that. And if I misunderstood, I'm sorry."

Jean Forrest, in her dressing room, listened absent-mindedly to her maid's questions as to what she wished to wear.

"Oh, the silver lame, I think; or, no—not that tonight. Maybe the—oh, I don't know! Run away, Mim! for fifteen minutes—no, ten minutes—and then come back and I'll be ready to dress."

The pretty girl went away, and Jean sat in front of her dressing table, staring at her reflection in the mirror, but seeing nothing.

Brandon home again! That thought full her mind to the exclusion of all else. And it expanded and threw out fears in all directions, but most prominent, the gravest fear of all, was the uncertainty as to her own will power.

She, Jean Forrest, who had never before feared man or woman; who had never feared society or scandal, who had braved her husband's anger, who had laughed at his lapses from faith and honor, had upheld him and stood up for him through thick and thin, through evil report and good report, now—now, Jean Forrest was afraid.

Afraid of Vivian, more afraid of Sayre, but most of all, afraid of herself. Afraid of that brave, strong, invincible self that had stood by her for twenty-five years, without faltering.

Yet when, less than an hour ago, she had looked into Brandon Sayre's deep grey eyes, she knew that she loved him and had loved him for the two years he had been away, even though she had deceived herself into thinking otherwise. And now what could she do? And her answer was instant—nothing.

Nursery Tale Is Subject for Puppet Show

The whimsical and charming nursery-book story of Hansel and Gretel was given animated expression last evening at the Junior High School when the Punchinello Puppet Players presented it under the auspices of the Major John Hebbden Gillespie Chapter, I.O.D.E. in aid of the chapter's war comforts fund. Imagination, artistry and deft craftsmanship were shown in the creation of the diminutive figures of the actors, as well as in the miniature properties and furnishings of the twelve scenes composing the three acts. Humor and skill were shown in the manipulation of the figures, and movements were on the whole, neatly co-ordinated with the dialogue. A particularly laughable moment was when Gretel pushed the old witch in the oven, in which the bad old dame had intended to cook the children.

The details were in perfect scale, with the exception of the duck, which was built on heroic lines so that it would carry Hansel and Gretel across a little lake which interrupted their journey homeward. The audience enthusiastically applauded two or three of the scenes because of their beauty, and at the end of the evening called the two little principals back to the stage, just as if they had been real actors. The scenes represented the woodcutter's cottage, the woodcutter being played by Sheila Kincaid; the forest near the cottage; the deep forest; outside the witch's cottage; inside the witch's cottage, and by the small lake. Most of these were used more than once. Gladys Macintosh played the part of Gretel,

MUST SMASH NAZI DESIGNS

Rev. E. P. Laycock, Former
 Victorian, Tells of Heroism
 Of British People

A letter received in this city from
 Rev. E. P. Laycock, who is in charge of the Church of England at Beckenham, near London, gives some interesting sidelights upon life as it is there under the bombing which is being kept up by the Germans.
 The writer of the letter was very popular during his residence in Victoria and as can be imagined he is staying faithfully with his work
 while bombs are bursting every night from 8 o'clock until about 5 a.m.

"We are not downhearted," he says in his letter. "There is no talk of anything but 'going on.' We must smash the foul evil of the brutal Nazi system."

As an A.R.P. warden, he points out he is always on duty. He remains dressed at night, lying down in his clothes ready to render aid in case where. Sometimes the duty is that of extinguishing incendiary bombs,
 which start fires in all directions,
 with soldiers rushing about courageously tackling the bombs and with terrific noises of all kinds never ceasing.

"The spirit of our people is wonderful," adds Mr. Laycock. He gives an instance to support this respecting a very old grandfather, whose home was blown to ruins. The old man had to be helped down from an upstairs apartment, from which the roof and side walls had been blown, by means of a ladder, but upon his reaching the ground he got a small Union Jack and insisted upon returning by way of the ladder,
 when he planted the flag at the top of the wrecked home.

"The way is hard and the struggle desperate, but we are going on and on to victory," concludes the letter.

PRISON TERM FOR SOLDIER

Private Dorsay W. McMahon Draws Six Months for Reckless Driving

For driving a motorcycle in a reckless manner on October 3, Private Dorsay W. McMahon was sentenced to serve six months in prison
 by Mr. Justice Binnie at the Assizes at the Fall Assizes in the Courthouse yesterday morning. H. A. Beckwith appeared for the accused.

Private Earl McMillan died on October 8 from injuries received
 when a motorcycle driven by Mc-Mahon ran into an electric light
 standard at Dalhousie Road and Esplanade Street. McMillan was a passenger in the sidecar.

Character evidence on behalf of
 McMahon was given by Mrs. Gladys
 Wyatt, proprietress of a shop at Dalhousie and Ross Streets, and Provost
 Sergeant Charles H. Tall, J. B.
 Clearing, K.C., the Crown prosecutor, read a telegram from Chief of Police H. B. McKay, Jefferson
 City, hoping that leniency would be shown McMahon.

Joe Jack Kee was sentenced to serve six months in prison with a fine of $200, or in default an additional two months, for possession of opium in a Theatre Alley building on August 24.

Mr. Justice Smith thanked jurymen for their honest and conscientious attention to duty. He reminded them that their duty on behalf of the Crown was of great importance.

At the Theatres

ATLAS "I Love You Again," Theatre which ends today at the Atlas Theatre,
 starring William Powell and Myrna Loy, is a fast-moving comedy dealing with the plight of a man who recovers from an eight-year attack of amnesia during which time he has developed an entirely new personality. In the supporting cast are Frank McHugh, Edmund Lowe,
 Donald Douglas and Nella Walker.

CADET Spencer Tracy plays a theatre screen father for the first time in "Edison, the Man," biographical drama of the great inventor, which ends today at the Cadet Theatre. An Edison, he is the father of a daughter and a son.

CAPITOL "The Sea Hawk," Errol Flynn's cinematic assignment to cinematic adventure, in which he is seen as the daring captain of a buccanier ship is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. His lovely new leading lady in the picture is Brenda Marshall.

DOMINION Bob Burns has brought his baroque back to the screen in the new Universal comedy, "Alias the Deacon," now playing at the Dominion Theatre. Besides the baroque, Burns relates new stories about his famous kinsfolk back in Van Buren, Ark., and altogether
 presents the homely, humorous
 character that has made him unique among comedians.

 est pleasure in acting, rehearsal
 or studying for a rehearsal.

RIO Twentieth Century
 Fox's rollicking comedy, "He Married His Wife," will end today at the Rio

 from a cast including such winners
 as Roland Young, Mary Boland and Cesar Romero.

Progress Medal
 Of 1940 Given to
 Walt Disney

Walt Disney has been awarded the Progress Medal for 1940 of the Society of Motion Picture Engineers. The award took place Wednesday evening, October 23, during the society's Fall convention in Hollywood. The medal is given in recognition of "any invention, research or development... which shall have resulted in a significant advance in the development of motion picture technology." It was awarded to Disney because of his studio's technical strides over the past year, culminating in the new Fantasound recording and sound projection equipment which makes its debut in "Fantasia." Disney's full-length musical feature, opening in New York on November 13. Aside from Fantasound, said to be the most revolutionary motion picture development since sound itself, the society also took into account the radical improvements made by the Disney engineers in the studio's

Once more "Imperial Cables" inaugurates a new fast cable service to bring the peoples of the British Empire closer together. This service, EFM (Expeditionary Force Message), is available to and from all members of the Canadian Army and Air Force serving overseas, as well as other members of the Empire fighting services in Canada. Obvious difficulties exist in the prompt delivery of messages addressed to Naval Forces and these, for the present, are not allowed. In 1938 "Imperial Cables," in co-operation with Canadian Pacific Telegraphs, established a new Empire-wide flat rate service. Early in 1940 Social Letter Telegrams (SLT) were inaugurated to provide a social greeting service at low rates. Now comes the EFM. These three events are typical of the services rendered the Empire by the cable and wireless facilities of this British owned and British operated communication system with world-wide connections.

Gunners Will Meet Arrows Tonight at The Sports Centre

Senior "A" Men's Cage Squads All Set For Important Basketball Fixture—Two Other Games On Programme—First Contest at 7:00 O'Clock—Last Night's Results

With undisputed occupation of second berth in the senior "A" men's basketball standings as the main reason for their selection, the Gunners and Arrows will meet tonight at the Victoria Sports Centre. The important clash will headline a triple card, which will present senior "B" and intermediate quintettes in action in the supporting fixtures.

Both the Gunners and the Arrows registered victories in their last out. The artillerymen took the measure of West Road, while the Arrows trimmed K.V.'s. Tonight's battle will be the first meeting of the two squads since the Arrows' last victory over the Gunners in the club's last triumph, and will be expected to attract some of their points in this evening's important tussle.

Doug Whyte, with the Arrows last season, and Doug Bray, well-known local athlete, carry most of the Gunners' offensive. However, there are a number of other players who show promise with the artillery quintette, and if given a chance to do a little more work would probably prove quite an asset to the team.

AT FULL STRENGTH
Arrows will be at full strength for the clash with the artillerymen and while they will take the fight slightly, do not in any way underestimate the strength of the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade, R.C.A. Manager Frank Shandley will probably start Sonny Walker and Ollie O'Smith on the defence, with "Busker"

Jackson and Morry Hornaby as forwards. The Dale will probably jump at centre, Ian McKeachie, Rex Jackson and Parfitt will be in uniform and ready to jump into the game at a moment's notice.

Commercial and 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade, R.C.A. N.P.A.M., senior "B" quintettes, will meet in the second game on the card, while Fairfield and Hoyle-Brown, intermediate "B" boys' squads are booked for the curtain-raiser at 7 o'clock.

LAST NIGHT'S GAMES
St. Louis College, Caplito and Navy registered victories in city league cage games played last night at the Victoria High School Gymnasium.

Taking the floor in the curtain raiser, St. Louis College, smart junior boys' quintette, turned back the Young Arrows, 31-14. The eventful winners established a 17-2 lead in the first half and coasted to an easy triumph.

The battle of the evening was the second game on the card, an intermediate "B" boys' tussle between Fairfield and Hoyle-Brown, with the former squad registering a 24-22 victory.

Cape drew up at the halftime breather leading by a lone basket, the score being 8-6 in their favor. The Arrows, however, decided the outcome of one of the season's most keenly-fought struggles. In the final stanza each club tossed up sixteen points.

Playing in the first game of the recently organized Inter-Services League, Navy cagers had too much on the ball for the Army and walked through the soldiers for a 36-10 decision. Sailors led 20-2 at halftime.

Team managers are reminded that they must pick up their registration forms today at the Victoria Sporting Goods Company, Broad Street. Failure to comply with this order may result in suspension of those clubs which fail to act on this final warning.

Vancouver Squad To Make Tour of California State

VANCOUVER, Oct. 29 (CP).—Plans were under way today for a California tour by a Vancouver Rugby team early next year.

Les Pope, president of the Vancouver English Rugby Union, discussed the proposed tour with other officials following discussions in Seattle over the week-end with Dr. Miles Hudson, Rugby coach of the University of California.

Mr. Pope said that Dr. Hudson favored an officially sponsored tour by a Canadian team, the proceeds from which would go to the American Red Cross.

It was suggested that the Canadian team swing farther south than in previous years, when British Columbia sides met Stanford and California Universities, and play teams sponsored by members of the motion picture colony at Hollywood.

In the past British Columbia teams have made numerous trips to California and teams from there have played here. Last Spring a University of California squad made the trip here.

BIG HORSE SALE TODAY

Fine List of Thoroughbreds Will Be Sold at Virginia Auction

NEWMARKET, Va., Oct. 29 (AP).—One of the finest breeding groups of thoroughbreds in the world will go to the highest bidder at the dispersal tomorrow of the late Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Court Manor stud.

Leading figures in the breeding and racing world will gather for the bidding on 102 head, including six stallions, fifty-five broodmares, thirty-four yearlings, six two-year-olds and one three-year-old.

Topping the list of stallions is Gino, ten-year-old son of Tetraema and Tereina, of whose forty-two foals thirty-six have raced and thirty-two have won. In 1939, all of his twelve two-year-olds were winners.

Horses bred by Kilmer won approximately $4,000,000 in the eighteen-year period ended in 1939. Sun Briar and Exterminator, total six started Kilmer to fame as breeder and racer, together with Sun Beau—which was the world's greatest money winner with earnings of $376,744 in the period 1931-40 before being displaced by C. S. Howard's Seabiscuit, and Sunica are not being sold.

Sun Briar was retired this year, and Exterminator, famed gelding, has been on the pension list for some years. Sun Briar has sired winners of more than $2,000,000, his daughters have produced winners of more than $1,100,000 and his sons in stud have sired winners of $2,446,000.

Sun Beau will be leased and Sunica also will be retired.

In the semi-final six-round Doug Marsh, another Montreal welter who has been training with Ken Overlin, the middleweight champion, gained an equally easy victory from Sammy Hyder, of New York. Marsh weighed 146 1/4, Hyder 145 1/2.

80,000 PEOPLE ARE EXPECTED
Big Crowd Is Predicted for Notre Dame-Army Game Next Saturday

WEST POINT, N.Y., Oct. 29 (AP).—Though Army has beaten only Williams, while Notre Dame has romped past each of its four opponents, their football game in New York, Saturday, will draw its customary complement of 80,000 cash customers.

Army Athletic Association officials announced today they are being swamped with last-minute requests for tickets which cannot be filled. The Notre Dame quota was exhausted a month ago.

The cadets face this game with the poorest record they ever have carried into action against the Irish, a team already being compared favorably with the great 1930 Knute Rockne machine. Winner by only one point over Williams in the opener, Army was whipped by Cornell and Lafayette and played a 6-6 tie with Harvard.

Yet all of the factors pointing to an easy victory for Notre Dame obviously have not scared off the customers.

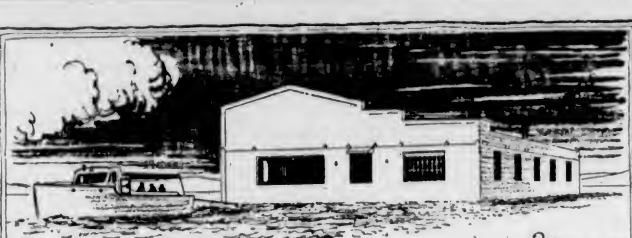

The experts' speculation about the game—which they are conceding to Notre Dame in advance—has concerned itself chiefly with how the Irish will manage to hold down the score. The Army-Notre Dame rivalry has been a long one—began in 1913 when Gus Dorais' forward passes to Rockne were a startling innovation.

Retains Golf Title
ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 29 (CP).—Lex Chisholm whipped around the St. Catharines Golf Club course in one-over-par 71, to successfully defend his championship of the Toronto Maple Leaf training camp.

Turk Broda's 80, Sweeney Schriener's 81 and Johnny McCree's 86 were the other good scores.

Fourth Position Is Good Enough, States Coach of Canadiens

Dick Irvin Says He Will Be Satisfied If Club Gains Play-Offs in National Hockey League—New Goal Tender Should Make Big Difference—Jack Adams Is With the Squad

By ROBERT CLARKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
ST. HYACINTHE, Que., Oct. 29 (CP).—Dick Irvin, the noted pigeon fancier and hockey coach, wants his Montreal Canadiens to circle a few times around the National Hockey League circuit and then head with the homing instinct to fourth place in the standings.

That's the spot Irvin is aiming for with the Canadiens, he said, and he is not at all satisfied with the team's position in the league. He is not at all satisfied with the team's position in the league.

The first step in the rebuilding was to lure Irvin away from Toronto Maple Leafs last Spring. After that, the shopping for players started, with the result that more than half of the members of this season's team are newcomers.

But Canadiens are new in more than player personnel. They are different in spirit and drive, for the haphazardness of other years has vanished and the players are tending strictly to business. One of the veterans of the club says that it is the best-conditioned Canadian team in a half-dozen seasons.

GETS GARDNER
Irvin started from the goal out to give new faces to the club, obtaining Bert Gardiner from Philadelphia Ramblers in exchange for Claude Bourque and cash. Gardiner never has been an N.H.L. regular before, but showed brilliant form in a few big league appearances with New York Rangers.

There may be as many as nine new men with Canadiens this season, including Gardiner. Five of the seventeen players being carried by Irvin were amateurs last season. They are Ken Beardon, of Edmonton and Winnipeg, a defenceman; Johnny Quilty, of Ottawa, and Elmer Lach, of Weyburn, Sask.

The emphasis is decidedly on youth in the new Canadian setup for both Beardon and Quilty are only nineteen and permission had to be obtained from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to sign them. Lach, whom Irvin says should score ten goals in his first season in the N.H.L., is only twenty-two. Chamberlain is only twenty-five, while Singush is a year older.

Quilty has been used at centre, between Gettiffe and Sands, while Haynes has been acting as pivotman for the brilliant Blake and Benoit. Lach, Adams and Demers have been working together, while Irvin had both Chamberlain and Trudel for utility roles.

Former National Basketball Champions Play at Vancouver Tonight

VANCOUVER, Oct. 29 (CP).—Dick Wright, non-playing manager of Vancouver Maple Leafs, Canadian basketball champions, said tonight his team was in "good shape" and ready to meet Victoria Dominos in an exhibition game at the new Exhibition Gardens tomorrow night.

Wright said eight men would strip. The starting line-up will include only one of this year's newcomers—George McConnell—who played with Trokes, inter-city finalists last year. McConnell will play forward with Jimmy Bardsley, Joe "Jo-Jo" Rosa will hold down the centre spot with Art Willoughby and Al Beaton at guard. Spares are Harvey Reese, who played with the University of British Columbia senior "B" team last year; Art Watson and Doug Gross, with the University last year but unable to play much because of a knee injury.

EXHIBITION GAMES
Vancouver, Oct. 29 (CP).—Cy Williams, president of the Victoria Basketball League, said tonight all exhibition games between Victoria teams and Vancouver squads would come under the jurisdiction of the league executive.

"The ruling was made since no Vancouver team could ask a Vancouver team to play without first receiving permission from the league executive," Williams said. "Officials therefore decided to stage all exhibition matches under the jurisdiction of the league."

Officials earlier this week announced a plan to stage a home and away series between each of the six entries in the Mainland league and Victoria teams. The series, tentatively set up, calls for twelve games, to be extended under a flexible schedule through the Winter season.

First game of the series will be played here tomorrow night between Victoria Dominos and Vancouver Maple Leafs, with a return match at the capital city on November 9.

centres; Joe Benoit, of Trail, B.C., a right-winger, and Tony Grabowski, who played last season with Sydney Millionaires and who can be used either at defence or up front.

In addition, Murph Chamberlain was purchased from Maple Leafs, while Jack Adams, who has had two years' pro experience although only twenty, was bought from Vancouver Lions, of the Pacific Coast League.

Another newcomer who has impressed Irvin is Defenceman Alex Singush, on loan from New Haven Eagles, of the American League.

Those retained from last season's squad are Defenceman Doug Young and Cliff "Red" Gouppie; Left-wingers Hector "Toe" Blake and Ray Gettiffe, and Right-wingers Tony Demers and Charlie Sands. Paul Haynes, who played part of last season and then was sent out in a scouting role, has returned to the active list.

From the way Irvin has been drilling the team it seems likely that Young will be paired on one defence with Gouppie, while Beardon and Grabowski will form the other. Singush has been bothered with a bad knee for more than a week but should be in top shape shortly.

Quilty has been used at centre, between Gettiffe and Sands, while Haynes has been acting as pivotman for the brilliant Blake and Benoit. Lach, Adams and Demers have been working together, while Irvin had both Chamberlain and Trudel for utility roles.

RECENT RACE INVESTIGATED

Stewards at River Downs Make Inquiry Into Sponging of Horses

CINCINNATI, Oct. 29 (AP).—Investigation into the sponging of two horses in yesterday's fifth race at River Downs disclosed today, stewards said, that two other entries in the six-horse feature attraction were similarly tampered with.

Performance of Odessa's Pride and Cavalier disabused officials, who asked that an examination be made by the track veterinarian, M. J. Sierveid. It revealed sponges had been placed in the animals' noses, said Jack Young, presiding track judge.

Dr. Sierveid reported today similar obstructions had been placed in the nostrils of Benschal and Whistling Dick had a sponge in each nostril. Benschal, which set the pace for three furlongs, had one in only one side of its nose.

Belle Han, entry of Mrs. Dave Christian, of Illinois, won the $1,000 purse mile-and-a-half race and paid $10.20 for $1, despite recent bad form.

Secretary Helen Rickett of the State Racing Commission said the commission would investigate.

LEGISLATURE IS OPENED HERE

prayers were read by Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia. Then followed the return of the writ sealing Manfred McGeer, newly-elected Liberal member for Mackenzie, who was introduced to Mr. Speaker Whitaker and conducted to his seat by Premier Pattullo and Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir.

Routine amendments to the Weekly Half-Holiday Act were taken through first reading, to preserve the right of the Commons to deal first with their own business, and then the main debate was adjourned until today. The House named its committee on committees, under J. H. Forrester (Liberal, Burrard), and departmental reports were tabled in a rush.

VOTE OF SYMPATHY

With the House on the eve of adjournment for the day, Premier Pattullo rose to pay a stirring tribute to the men who had gone down in H.M.C.S. Margaree, on convoy duty in the Atlantic. He was joined by R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader of the Opposition, and by Harold E. Winch, C.C.F. chairman in the Legislature. The Premier said, in part:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to move that this House express its great regret at the loss of life occasioned by the going down of H.M.C.S. Margaree. It was a very sad occurrence, and one which illustrates the dangers to which not only the navy, but all three services are hourly and daily subjected. Our sympathy, I am sure, goes out to all, as it does, too, to those whose loss came through

VICTORIA United, local entry in the Pacific Coast Football League, will journey to Nanaimo on Sunday to oppose the Up-Islanders in a league fixture at the Central Sports grounds. Time for the kick-off has not been announced, but the fixture will probably get under way at 3 o'clock. With Rival Athletic Park available on Saturday, 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade, R.C.A., and Saanich Thistles will meet at that ground in a Victoria and District Football League encounter. The second game of the week-end schedule for local eleven will bring together Victoria City and Victoria West, Sunday, at Bullen Park. Kick-offs are set for 2:30 o'clock.

The sinking of the R.M.S. Empress of Britain.

"I have a deep-seated conviction that we shall emerge from this war to victory; that the Empire and her Allies will not succumb, and that freedom shall not perish from the face of the earth." Premier Pattullo declared, in moving a vote of standing sympathy with the relatives of men lost in both disasters.

FOR FREEDOM

Mr. Maitland seconded the resolution. He said, in part:

"Our hearts go out today to the wives, mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers and sweethearts of those who perished. Nothing we can say will bring them much comfort. Only God can do that. We are today in the stress and strain of mortal conflict, but some day the stress will be lifted. Some day we will be able to say of those who lost their lives in the cause that in handing on to this humanity they gave us freedom."

Mr. Winch concurred. Suffering had come from the first days of the war, and might be expected to the last. Such reminders were a call on all men to realize that the sacrifice must not be in vain, and that from the turmoil man must wrest a better ordered society that would follow in the path of peace.

The House stood in an impressive silent tribute as the motion was carried.

Adjournment followed almost immediately, until 2:30 p.m. today, when Frank Putnam (Liberal, Creston) and Manfred McGeer (Liberal, Mackenzie) will open the main debate of the session, that on the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne. Opening ceremonies yesterday were witnessed by approximately 700 persons, accommodated on the floor of the House and in all galleries. War and civil decorations were worn.

"METAL" FROM PAPER

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (CP).—A souvenir of war received here by the parents of Lance-Corporal William C. Dennis, of an infantry holding unit of the Canadian Active Service Force, indicated that Germany has a substitute for metal made from paper. The souvenir is a section of compressed paper, processed to metal hardness, taken from the motor of a German raider shot down in England.

DUKE OPENS LEGISLATURE

Governor of Bahamas Mentions Lease of Naval Bases To United States

NASSAU, The Bahamas, Oct. 29 (CP).—The Duke of Windsor, Governor of The Bahamas, opening a new session of the Legislature today, called for approval of measures implementing the leasing of naval and air base sites to the United States.

"Since I closed the session on the 2nd of September," the Duke said in the Speech from the Throne, "a decision has been reached by His Majesty's Government which will materially affect this colony. I refer, of course, to the leasing of air and naval bases to the United States Government."

NAVAL BASES

"I am confident that, as the selection of sites in the Bahamas is part of a comprehensive scheme of national defence, the Legislature will be prepared to approve such measures as local negotiations may demand to meet the requirements of the United States."

The Governor promised a balanced budget for the colony and said that revenue for 1941 (estimated at $23,000,000), an increase of $2,000,000 since the budget was drafted in January.

Appointment of a committee to consider the relation between wages in the colony and the cost of living was announced.

Accompanied by the Duchess of Windsor, the Governor inspected a home guard of honor before entering the Council Chamber, escorted by Chief Justice Daly and officials of the Colonial Government. Thousands of spectators lined the streets outside the legislature building.

No New Car Models For 1943 Expected If U.S. Enters War

Industrial War Plants Being Built Across Border And Automobile Factories May Be Too Busy to Make Private Motors

By COL. FREDERICK PALMER
North American Newspaper Alliance

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—When I was in Detroit a few days ago, on a round of visits to industrial war plants already in operation or in the making, it appeared likely that, if we go into the war, we shall have no new private automobile models in 1943.

In war's tightening regimentation the would-be buyer will have to be content with a 1942 model if he is allowed any new car at all, and his old car may be requisitioned if it is not already in war service. For this would be one of the most obvious resources in rationing; once our present huge programme is expanded in unprecedented limits to carry the war overseas, which will be the only way to win a conclusive victory; as we found it in the stress of our "work or fight" effort of 1918.

Dismissing this prospect, which is not jokingly suggested, inquiry centres in the progress of the programme in Detroit, a star city in one kind of mass production when the call is for the mass production of weapons.

NEW TANK PLANT

"That's it," said the driver of the car which took me out to the site of the forthcoming Chrysler tank plant, where steam shovels were excavating for the foundations. "It will go up so fast it will make you blink. And we can turn out better tanks than Hitler can."

So it will, and so we can. No industry, starting from scratch, should be able to get tank production sooner than the engine now wanted is an airplane engine and the wheels are caterpillar instead of rubber.

Not until September 30, three months after the fall of France, did Chrysler receive the contract. The cause of the delay was not their business, which was to make the tanks. Meanwhile, they had been busy mastering the blueprints. Immediately the contract was signed the steam shovels began work on the site of the $20,000,000 plant.

AIRPLANE ENGINES

Other automobile companies have contracts for airplane engines. When Henry Ford refused to make British Rolls-Royce liquid-cooled engines, since 65 per cent was to go to the British and only 35 per cent to us, the project was finally assigned to Packard. There was some delay in receiving the blueprints from Britain, but all are in hand, practically ready for processing, and the walls of the plant rising.

Ford is to make engines exclusively for us in a plant with no windows and even artificial light throughout. No workman can see whether it is fair or stormy outside. There will be no playing the old trick in the even heat of making a steel part fit through expansion by exposure to the sun pouring in through a window.

The old master-ought to do a good job. It will not be his first experience with airplane engines. When Colonel E. A. Deeds, of the then Aircraft Production Board, went to Ford in 1917 to ask him whether he could find a way of avoiding the trouble of boring cylinders in steel blocks for the Liberty engine, Ford paced up and down the room, and at length said: "I'll try it if it's the thing for me to do."

In a few days he had a tube of drawn steel which stood the tests.

MACHINE TOOLS NEEDED

We have unsurpassed mechanical inventiveness and initiative, but it is a fairly safe bet that all these plants will be ready long before the machines are for installation. The delay in the authorization of the expansion of machine tool plants is the one which will continue to haunt us—along with the need of more skilled labor.

Happily for the contractors, we are proceeding with mass production of types instead of waiting longer for perfect types. The decision is that of a production boss in Detroit who says: "Maybe that is something better, but we are tooled up for next year's model and we are going to start to make it, or we'll not have it in time."

Each concentrated on his specific task, contractors may smile at a suggestion of no new models in 1943. But in moving about from plant to plant there is no resting the impression of the enormous increase of the quantity and mechanical complexity of weapons since the Great War. Once we are in this war there must be tooling up for more and more new models and material and skilled labor will have to meet the incredibly colossal demands of a global orbit and astronomical figures in our calculations. Few of us will be allowed pleasure vehicles.

CANADA'S INDUSTRIES

in Action
AT BRITAIN'S SIDE

CANADIAN Industry is the anvil on which Canadians are forging mighty weapons and mechanized armaments for their fighting forces now defending our homeland and England. In times of great danger Canada finds herself blessed with organization, skilled man power and technical equipment needed to fight this war against barbarism.

But Canadian industry was not built by Canadians for war. Canada developed her heavy industries to build railways, machines, bridges, ships. Textile industries for clothes and fabrics. Automotive Industries to supply the increasing domestic and foreign demand for motor cars, trucks and tractors.

Now, war has locked these industries together to form a huge armament assembly line. From this line is now flowing an endless supply of armoured cars, gun carriages and other motorized war equipment, as well as planes, guns, munitions, ships, engines and all the sinews of war needed by Britain and our fighting forces in the terrific battles ahead.

Our first job is to win this war. When we've done that, as with God's help we will do, then we can begin building a new Canada. And then, once more Canada's Automotive Industries, along with their sister industries, war-toughened and efficient, will proudly take their place in the New Peace and stand prepared and ready to carry on the dynamic progress of a greater and happier Dominion.

These wages, in turn, furnish the means whereby many thousands of our men and women are able to subscribe to War Loans, Savings Certificates and pay war taxes. And in the movement of this money from buyer to seller, various taxes are imposed that go into the coffers of our government, affording additional revenue. No matter which spoke you start with, it always leads to the hub.

This group of automobile manufacturers distributes over one hundred million dollars every year in wages and salaries and in the purchase of Canadian raw materials.

KEEPING CANADIAN PLANTS WORKING
We do not feel that we should go into a deep discussion of economics or attempt to harmonize the various schools of thought that deal with the problem of how best to serve our country—whether to spend or save. But this we believe we can say—money spent for necessities produced in Canada is of help to our government.

Take the purchase of an automobile. In the first place it is obvious that a Canadian-Built car should be chosen and for two reasons: the American-Built car, with the tariff, has a present rate of exchange, does not give the Canadian purchaser quite the value afforded by a Canadian-Built car—and, still more important, such purchase money would go out of Canada and not help Canadian workmen and women. This is true of any goods not made in the British Empire.

Now the automobile manufacturer deals with fifteen other vital industries, so by buying a Canadian-Built car, the purchaser is helping to pay wages to many Canadian workers and to purchase Canadian raw materials.

These wages, in turn, furnish the means whereby many thousands of our men and women are able to subscribe to War Loans, Savings Certificates and pay war taxes. And in the movement of this money from buyer to seller, various taxes are imposed that go into the coffers of our government, affording additional revenue. No matter which spoke you start with, it always leads to the hub.

According to Culbertson

LAST TUESDAY'S QUESTION

Question 13.—Only East-West vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:
South West North East
1 ♠ 2 ♠ Double 2 ♠

You are South and hold:
♠ A Q 7 5 3 2 ♥ Q 8 4 ♦ K ♣ K 4 3

What call do you make?

Answer: Pass. The temptation here is to rebid your six card spade suit, but, under the vulnerability conditions, this would be extremely short sighted. Your partner has doubled two clubs for penalties. He may be equally anxious to double hearts. You yourself are not strong enough to make a two heart double, but you would welcome such a double if it came from your partner, hence you must pass to give him the opportunity. Anyway, there is considerable doubt that you can go game unless partner can bid over your pass (20 points demerit for two spades; 30 points demerit for a double; 50 points demerit for any other bid.)

LAST WEDNESDAY'S QUESTIONS

Question 14.—You are East, defending against South's four spade contract, doubled by your partner. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

NORTH (Dummy)

♠ 9 4 2
♥ J 6 5
♦ K Q 4
♣ Q J 9 4

YOU (East)

♠ 5
♥ A K 10 8 4 2
♦ A J 10
♣ 7 6 2

West opens the heart nine. (You had bid hearts). Dummy plays low, you win with king and South drops the queen. What card do you return?

Answer: You should return the diamond jack. This establishes two diamond tricks for your side when partner gets on lead with a trump or a club. You dare not return a high heart on the mere hope that South's play of the queen was a false card. A club return, establishing dummy's club suit before you have set up two diamonds for yourself, would be very bad defence (30 points demerit for a spade, heart, or club return; 15 points demerit for diamond ten return; 50 points demerit for diamond ace return).

Question 15.—Both sides vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠

You are South and hold:
♠ 2 ♠ A K 10 7 ♦ A Q 10 4 ♣ K Q 10 5

What call do you make?

Answer: Double. This is a take-out or informative double, and with your great strength in three suits, is the only correct action. If North holds some strength in spades, he can make a penalty pass; otherwise, he must show his best suit. It would be foolish of you to "stall" at either diamonds or clubs in the hope of "hitting" partner's length (25 points demerit for a three diamond or three club bid; 40 points demerit for any other call, including a pass).

TODAY'S QUESTIONS

Question 21.—You are East, defending against a three no trump contract. (Your side made no bid). Your partner leads the spade jack. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

Dummy

♠ A 5
♥ Q 8 4
♦ K Q 10 8 2
♣ K 7 3

You (East)

♠ Q 7
♥ K 6 3 2
♦ A 4 3
♣ J 8 4 2

Dummy's spade ace is played on first trick. What card do you play, and why?

Question 22.—You are East, defending against a three no trump contract. (Your side did not bid). Your partner leads the diamond ace. Dummy comes down with the 6-3 diamonds; you hold the J-8-2. What card do you play, and why?

TODAY'S HANDS

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH

SOUTH

The bidding:

Pass Pass

West opened the queen of spades and was allowed to hold the trick. He continued the spades, dummy winning with the king. Declarer could count nine tricks if the diamond finesse worked, but only eight if the king were in East's hand.

Even in this latter case, however, there was hope of fulfilling the contract. If the club honors were split and West's honor could be knocked out first, he would have no re-entry for his spade suit.

There was no need to hurry with the diamond finesse. If it worked, declarer always would be safe.

Therefore, a low club was led from the dummy, and when East unthinkingly played low, South played the queen and West won with the ace. A third spade lead was won by South's ace and the diamond finesse was taken. East won with the king, but was unable to get West on lead to cash the established spades. The most the defence could take was the king of clubs in addition to the three tricks already won.

Had East analysed the situation carefully, he would have played the king of clubs on the first club lead. It is almost impossible to place the cards in such a way that this would sacrifice a trick. Upon winning this trick East would lead a third round of spades and when he eventually won the king of diamonds, could give West the lead with a club to run the established spades.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH

The bidding:

North East South West

3 NT Pass 3 NT Pass

Pass Pass

West opened the five of spades, dummy played low, and East's Queen won the trick. Delighted that the ace was now blank in dummy to permit the establishment of his king, East returned the deuce of spades! The diamonds were cleared and East, on lead with the queen, now cashed his precious spade king. After that, he looked around for more tricks, but couldn't find a single one. The contract was fulfilled with an extra trick.

The most superficial thinking on East's part would have saved the game. It should have been obvious that one spade trick more or less was of no consequence. The important point was that unless West had at least a five-card suit to the jack, defence was hopeless. The diamond suit obviously would be established with the loss of only one trick and dummy's clubs suggested two or three tricks in that suit.

The unblock of the spade suit should have been the only consideration in East's mind, but he hated to smother his own king.

CLUB SPEAKER TELLS OF IRAN

O. A. Butters, Former Persian Financier, Speaks at Kiwanis Luncheon

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's column.

Describing the changes in the life and economic status of Persia in recent years, O. A. Butters, former financier and banker in that country, spoke at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

In describing the vast oil industry that is fast becoming the primary political and economic consideration of Iran, as Persia is now known, Mr. Butters told of the issues to which the two-million-yearly revenue from the interests are put.

"The present Shah of Iran, one of the most progressive and able rulers of the country for some time, is rapidly turning the country into a modern power," said Mr. Butters.

"He is building railroads, schools and industries that will enable Iran to compete with world interests."

Mr. Butters said that the one-time powerful Sheiks of Persia are fast losing their power, now that the population is being encouraged to settle in one locality and abandon their roving inclinations.

"Now that the men are being paid regular wages in the woolen mills, cotton factories and sugar refineries, they are no longer inclined to sit and make rugs as of old. If you have a real, genuine Persian rug, hang on to it. There won't be many more," he said.

COUNTRY HEALTHFUL

The speaker claimed that any sympathies extended to young men sent to that country are wasted, as the life there is most healthful and enjoyable. The climate is similar to that of Victoria and the sports abundant.

Introduced by Dr. George Brown, the speaker was thanked by President Darrell W. Spence.

Austin Curtis announced that nominations were open for the forthcoming club election. The general meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 12.

Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, introduced Miss Dorothy Stark, local representative of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Miss Stark made an appeal on behalf of the Community Chest Drive that will start in Victoria next week.

If she works before getting married—that's a career. If she keeps it up after marriage—that's a job.

GET CANAL TRADE

Japanese steamers now provide the only transportation to and from Pacific Coast ports of the United States for Panama Canal employees as a result of the United States Navy's commandeering of the five vessels of the Panama-Pacific Line, according to an article in the newspaper, Panama American.

The five vessels of the City class were taken over by the United States Navy as a defence move, thus leaving no regular passenger steamship service between West Coast ports and the Panama.

SHIP TONNAGE
LOSSES HEAVY

Total of 198,030 Tons Lost
During Week Ending
October 21

LONDON, Oct. 29 (CP).—The Admiralty announced today that forty-five merchant ships totaling 198,030 tons were lost as the result of "enemy action" during the week ended October 21.

The losses were the heaviest for any single week with the exception of that ended June 23, when 209,984 tons of shipping were listed as lost. The latter week included losses in the withdrawal of British troops from Dunkerque.

British shipping losses during the week ended October 21 were put at thirty-two ships totaling 146,528 tons.

Allied losses were listed as seven ships aggregating 24,688 tons, while neutrals lost six ships of 26,816 tons. The average loss reported during the previous weeks had been 57,000 tons.

Last week's heavy losses authoritatively were said to be due to a large German submarine concentration in a particular area in the North Atlantic—not, however, without loss to the Nazis.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS
Precautions are being taken in the hope of preventing similar losses in the future, it was said.

The latest losses were on a scale comparable with those in April 1917, when the Germans sank 881,000 tons to give Allied shipping its most disastrous month of the first Great War.

Authoritative sources said the recent losses occurred over a period of five days, and that since that time convoys had arrived without being attacked, indicating the Nazi successes were "exceptional."

Citizens of Eire
Lost When Cargo
Ship Went Down

CORK, Oct. 29 (CP).—The Eireman vessel Kerry Head, bound from Liverpool to Britain for a cargo of coal, sank today after an explosion off Cork. Eleven citizens of Eire were lost.

The cause was not definitely stated, but it was reported that planes were over the vessel shortly before the explosion.

The Kerry Head, 825 gross tons, was damaged August 1 during an attack by German planes. Eire demanded compensation from Germany and the German government expressed "sincere regret."

When attacked at that time, the freighter was near the entrance of Oyster Haven, County Cork, in Eire waters.

Previously the City Council took the matter up with the Federal Department of Fisheries, but the latter disclaimed responsibility for what becomes of the fish after it is caught.

ALASKAN LINER
FLOATS AGAIN

Coastwise Craft Pulled Off
Elliott Island Reef Yesterday Morning

PRINCE RUPERT, Oct. 29 (CP).—The $1,000,000 coastal steamer Alaska, of the Alaska Steamship Company, Limited, was refloated today from the reef on Elliott Island, south of here, where she ran aground Saturday midnight with 278 passengers aboard.

The ship was pulled from the reef at 11:14 a.m. and was anchored off nearby Kennedy Island while salvors inspected the extent of her damage. Previously they said the ship appeared to have a five-foot hole in her stern through which eight feet of water poured into her forward holds.

The vessel was able to proceed to Kennedy Island under her own power.

The Pacific Salvage Company's Island Chief, J. H. Brown, has been dispatched from Victoria and is expected to arrive here overnight.

Planes Probably Will Be Used by
Norwegian Airmen

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (CP).—Attack bombers, built at Santa Monica, Calif., for delivery in Canada, are probably for use of members of the Royal Norwegian Air Force, training at Island Airport in Toronto, a source in close touch with Canadian air facilities said today.

The fact that Norwegian pilots are in training in Canada quite apart from the Royal Air Force activities, together with the fact that the planes were ordered by the Norwegian Government and are undergoing inspection at Santa Monica by Commander Kristian Ostby, head of the Royal Norwegian Military Mission in the United States, suggests the Norwegian flyers in Canada will get them.

At present these student flyers are using preliminary training type planes.

SPRAY OF MACHINE
GUNS GETS DRIVER OF AMBULANCE MAID

TORONTO, Oct. 29 (CP).—Oldest United States citizen to join the Royal Canadian Air Force, forty-year-old Alcraftman Winslow Meadows revealed in an interview today that six weeks ago he was in a Spanish jail.

He said he was held for twelve days with twenty-two other American ambulance drivers who served the Eighth French Army in the Battle of Flanders until Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, obtained their release.

He said he applied to the R.C.A.F. two weeks after he arrived back in the United States because "when you're an ambulance driver and a guy sprays you with machine guns, you get mad and want to do a little spraying yourself."

REDESIGNING
FAMOUS SHIP

Liner President Roosevelt
Purchased by U.S. for Transport Duties

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP).—After nineteen years of roaming the seven seas, braving storms and building a reputation for heroic rescues, the famed old liner President Roosevelt is going to fill the job originally assigned to her.

The ship has been sold to the United States Government for use as an army transport and will enter that service when she arrives from Bermuda tomorrow. It was reported the sale price was $700,000.

Designed originally as a troop transport when the United States was building ships during the Spanish War, the Roosevelt (then the Peninsula State) arrived too late. She was redesigned as a hospital ship to return wounded soldiers, but when completed in 1921 at Camden, N.J., the 13,899-ton liner again was too late.

She was redesigned, named after rough and ready Teddy Roosevelt and placed in the trans-Atlantic passenger service.

Like many other organizations in the city, the Red Cross Superflutiles store has undertaken to act as a collection centre for books and magazines for the men in uniform, but collections up to date have yielded not more than 10 per cent suitable for distribution to the troops.

The rest have been just so much waste paper, its disposal adding greatly to the work of the store's volunteer staff.

The manager of the store urged yesterday that in the selection of magazines and papers for the troops people should put aside only those that would be of interest to men and that are of current or recent date.

"If magazines were sent in as soon as the family has finished with them, the boys would have something to read that is still fresh," he pointed out.

At the same time the navy minister confirmed reports heard in the capital that Lieutenant John Farrow, controller of naval information, is anxious to secure some post at sea, but said nothing definite in this connection had been arranged yet.

During her annual visit to Victoria this week-end, the Columbia Coast Mission Ma. John Anle will be open in daylight hours for inspection by the public. The mission craft will arrive here on Friday morning and will remain alongside the Belleville Street dock of Canadian Pacific Steamships until Sunday evening, November 3.

Aboard the John Anle when she arrives will be Skipper Wally Smith, Engineer George Patterson, and Ben Drew, secretary of the Columbia Coast Mission. Mr. Drew will address gatherings during his stay here at St. Luke's, St. Barnabas and St. John's Churches.

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (CP).—Navy Minister Macdonald said today his department is still without detailed information concerning the loss of the destroyer Margaree. He said little information is expected until the merchant vessel with which the destroyer collided reaches port of the destroyer's survivors.

At the same time the navy minister confirmed reports heard in the capital that Lieutenant John Farrow, controller of naval information, is anxious to secure some post at sea, but said nothing definite in this connection had been arranged yet.

Like many other organizations in the city, the Red Cross Superflutiles store has undertaken to act as a collection centre for books and magazines for the men in uniform, but collections up to date have yielded not more than 10 per cent suitable for distribution to the troops.

The rest have been just so much waste paper, its disposal adding greatly to the work of the store's volunteer staff.

The manager of the store urged yesterday that in the selection of magazines and papers for the troops people should put aside only those that would be of interest to men and that are of current or recent date.

"If magazines were sent in as soon as the family has finished with them, the boys would have something to read that is still fresh," he pointed out.
